

Personal data policy

This Personal data policy explains how we use personal data that we have registered about you when you use our websites or any other of our services.

Which information do we register about you?

We register information about you when you place an order, when you enquire about our products and services, when you contact us through our website or when you send us an application for a job – asked or unasked. We also register information when you voluntarily answer e-mails or give us any other kind of feedback. The use of our website will be registered by the use of cookies.

How do we use the information about you?

We only register the information about you with a legitimate purpose so that we can handle your order, your enquiry or your application. If you as a potential customer give us your permission we will send you our newsletter by e-mail about products and services which you might find interesting. The type of personal information that we gather about you is typically:

- Name
- Email-address
- Telephone number
- Customer number
- Company/working place
- Occupation
- Addresses for invoicing and delivery

All4Labels Denmark SB A/S will not pass on information about you for the purpose of marketing to other companies than the ones that are conducting our own marketing tools. When we treat your order or application your information will be transferred to the companies that are conducting our internal tools for the handling of orders, handling of payments and applications.

Marketing

We would like to send you information about our products and services. If you have received newsletters previously in connection with our marketing you can withdraw your consent for this. At any time you have the right to ask us not to contact you in the purpose of marketing. If you do not want to be contacted in the purpose of marketing anymore please contact us on gdpr.sb@all4labels.com.

The right to insight and adjustment

You have the right to obtain an insight in which information we have registered about you. If you wish to have a copy of part of or all the personal dates that we have registered about you, please do contact us at gdpr.sb@all4labels.com.

We want to assure that the information registered about you is correct and updated. You have the right to ask us to correct or delete information that you think is incorrect.

Cookies

Cookies are small textfiles placed on your computer for gathering of basic internet log information and information about the behavior of the users. This information is used to follow the use of our websites and to make statistic reports about the activity on our websites

For further information please visit www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org.

You can adjust your browser not to allow cookies and the above mentioned websites explain how you delete cookies from your browser. Please note that parts of the functionality of our websites might stop functioning by doing this.

Other websites

Our websites contain links to other websites. This personal date policy applies only for our own websites, so when you follow links to other websites, you should read their personal date policy.

Changes in our personal date policy

Regularly we go through our personal date policy and will update this page with any amendments that we might make. This personal date policy was updated last May 31st, 2018.

How to contact us

Please contact us if you have any questions about our personal date policy. You can do this by e-mail gdpr.sb@all4labels.com.